

Innovative Storage Solutions

Best Practice is proud to present The Tube & Bracket Company with its industry acclaimed Commitment to Excellence profile.

Established in 2002 as the UK arm of TRILOGIQ, the Tube & Bracket Company has become one of the most notable names in the storage solutions segment courtesy of its efficient supply of lean tubular systems.

The tube and bracket structures can be competently applied to many different environments (commercial, industrial and domestic). Although the business supplied predominantly to the automotive industry during its early establishment, continued growth saw the group diversify into the aerospace, electronic, distribution, food, medical, events and postal markets.

The products, which are renowned for maximising space, reducing waste, improving ergonomics and implementing Kaizen continuous process improvement, have proven useful for applications such as: carts/trolleys, workstations, live storage, parts protection, replacing fabrication, sortation/picking, visual management, workstations, shelving units, notice boards, banner frames and events equipment.

The Tube & Bracket Company's most recent innovation is the revolutionary Graphit system. Developed specifically for the lean manufacturing and materials handling sectors, the composite system has been meticulously designed to slot into medical and food handling environments.

Steady growth has meant that relocating to a larger facility has become a necessary business move. The firm will operate from a purpose-built factory in Middleton Cheney (Banbury) occupying over 12,000ft² of production space and 2,000ft² of office space once the project has been completed in late 2016/early 2017. Resizing will enable the group to effectively accommodate their existing customer commitments whilst successfully securing further custom with clients in both the UK and Europe.

For further information on these fully functional and customisable tube and bracket solutions, then please don't hesitate to get in touch with the company today – the team will be more than happy to assist you.

T 01295 277791
sales@tubeandbracket.com
www.tubeandbracket.com

